Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The metes and bounds of "a width"... "is adapted" can not be determined. The claims do not recite what the width is adapted to do. As such, the term "a width"... "is adapted" renders the claims indefinite. In addition, claim 1 line 8, indicates that rib 107 is an intermediate rib. However, Figure 2a would indicate that 107 is not an intermediate rib. Claim 1, lines 11-14 indicates a component of rib 107, element 111, is adapted to an intermediate rib. As such, this contradiction renders the claim indefinite.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(B) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Davies (U.S. Patent No. 6,224,760). The claims are considered to read on Davies (U.S. Patent No. 6,224,760). However, if a difference exists between the claims and Davies (U.S. Patent No. 6,224,760), it would reside in optimizing the elements of Davies (U.S. Patent No.

6,224,760). It would have been obvious to optimize the elements of Davies (U.S. Patent No. 6,224,760) to enhance separation.

The remarks urge patentability based upon the term “a width...”is adapted”. However, the term would appear to be indefinite because it does not state what the width is adapted to do. In any event, Davies (U.S. Patent No. 6,224,760) pictorially shows tapered intermediate ribs in Figure 3. Davies (U.S. Patent No. 6,224,760) is considered to inherently have the recited local effective channel height because it has tapered ribs. As such, the claims are considered to read on Davies (U.S. Patent No. 6,224,760)'s Figure 3 tapered intermediate ribs.

All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the application prior to the entry of the submission under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the application prior to entry under 37 CFR 1.114. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing of a request for continued examination and the submission under 37 CFR 1.114. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
